28 June 2011: A collection of golf wear inspired and tested by Faldo Series Asia competitors is now available for purchase online. Its creators, Uniting Future Legends (UFL), will donate a percentage of proceeds from the collection to Sir Nick Faldo's global golf development programme.

Worn by competitors at Faldo Series Asia Grand Finals, UFL's collection is based on input and feedback from talented golfers aged 12 to 21 who participated in the Series throughout 2010 and 2011.

UFL, official golf wear partner to the Faldo Series Asia since 2010, has now released the collection for purchase online at www.unitingfuturelegends.com.

"Golfers everywhere can now purchase apparel as worn by Faldo Series Asia competitors," said UFL's co-founder Ashok Mahtani. "We are pleased to make a donation to the Series for every garment sold as a show of support to the champions of tomorrow who inspired the collection in the first place."

"Faldo Series Asia competitors have had a unique opportunity to help develop a line of clothes that they and their peers are now wearing," commented Faldo, a six-time Major Champion. "We thank UFL for its support of the Series and welcome this level of collaboration between our partners and our players."

The 2011/2012 Faldo Series Asia schedule features a record 18 tournaments in 14 different countries including five in mainland China plus others in The Philippines, Vietnam, India, Singapore, Malaysia, Hong Kong, Bahrain, Brunei, Japan, Chinese Taipei, Pakistan, Indonesia and Thailand. It concludes in March 2012 with the sixth Asia Grand Final, a World Amateur Golf Ranking event hosted by Faldo.

Established in 1996, 35 Faldo Series tournaments now take place in 25 countries worldwide with over 5,000 golfers participating each year. Former winners include Rory McIlroy, Nick Dougherty, Marc Warren, John Parry, Melissa Reid, Florentyna Parker and Yani Tseng, all winners on Tour.
